

RIT Furniture Design Program Announces New MFA Scholarship

The Furniture Design program in the School for American Crafts at Rochester Institute of Technology is excited to announce a new significant scholarship available to qualified MFA applicants. Named the Beth and Ira Nash Endowed Scholarship, in loving memory of David Weinstein, this new scholarship funding supports qualified graduate students pursuing their studies at RIT. Applicants for the Nash Scholarship are also eligible for university scholarship funding, work study and graduate teaching assistantship opportunities. Prospective students must apply before February 15 for consideration.

For more information, please contact Professor Andy Buck, Graduate Program Director, at aabsac@rit.edu.

---

For over 70 years, the Furniture Design Program in the School for American Crafts at RIT has trained many of the leading artists, designers, and craftspeople working in the field today. Within a world-class studio facility, students develop traditional and cutting edge technical expertise in an environment that supports innovative design and high-caliber craftsmanship.

MFA work, from top: Hee Chan Kim, George Dubinsky, Thor Hubbell, and Fabiano Serra.